

I am having the exact same problem. One observation I had made was that every new group made was by a recipient who refused to update their phones to the new iOS 8. I am guessing that is you are working on a platform under iOS 8 it does not register the newly named group options so it creates a new group the lower platforms can register.

I am interested to see what the conclusion to this madness is, because right now the lower platforms have the upper hands. The lower platforms have one group messages while all the iOP 8's have several groups.

SOOOOO ANNNNOOOYYYYINNGGG !!!!! 🙄😞
