

iMovie can no longer export to camera after installing Final Cut Pro HD

After installing Final Cut Pro HD, you can no longer use iMovie to export to a DV camera connected via FireWire.

This can happen with iMovie 3 or iMovie 4.

The solution is to temporarily move the following files from `/Library/QuickTime/` to the Desktop:

- DesktopVideoOut.component
- DVCPROHDVideoOutput.component

Restart the computer and try exporting from iMovie to your camera.

When you need to use Final Cut Pro HD again, drag these files back to `/Library/QuickTime/` and restart the computer.

This document will be updated as more information becomes available.
